

Cahen-Salvador, Colombe

Atlas

Colombe Cahen-Salvador is the co-founder of Atlas, the global progressive social & political movement uniting people for a free and equitable future. Atlas pushes for global change through social campaigns, electoral activities, and direct actions on topics such as democracy or vaccines inequity. It counts more than 20,000 people in over 130 countries. She previously co-founded the pan-European political party Volt, where she was responsible for the creation of policies and political direction.