

Finch, David

The Health Foundation

David Finch joined the Health Foundation in May 2018 as Senior Fellow in the Healthy Lives team. His research focuses on the social and economic value of health, health inequalities and the social determinants of health.

David previously worked at Resolution Foundation as Chief Analyst focusing on the impact of Universal Credit, tax and benefit policy, pay progression and pension provision. He still maintains a part-time role at Resolution Foundation as a Senior Research Fellow.

Prior to that he worked in a range of policy areas as an Economic Adviser at the Department for Work and Pensions.

David studied Economics at the University of Sussex.

(last updated 28.09.2018)