

Hågå, Audun

Norwegian Medical Products Agency

Audun Hågå is the former Director General of the Norwegian Medical Products Agency, a position he held from 2013 to 2024.

Prior to his position as DG, Audun was Deputy Director General in the Norwegian Ministry of Health and Care Services for ten years and he also worked for six years as Head of Department for pricing and reimbursement at the Norwegian Medicines Agency. Before his duties as a civil servant Audun worked for 10 years in the pharmaceutical industry based both in Norway and Sweden.

During his tenure as Director General, he was particularly focused on promoting collaboration across disciplines within the agency. Specifically, he has been committed to establishing strong connections between regulatory work and HTA/health economics, both internally and across Europe.

He holds a Cand. Scient degree from the University of Oslo (Norway) in Biology (Zoo-physiology).