

Lessof, Suszy

European Observatory on Health Systems and Policies

Suszy is the Coordinator of the Observatory and based in Brussels.

She works with the Observatory team and the Steering Committee to ensure the Observatory's work plan focuses on policy priorities and adds value. She develops policy and strategy and supports implementation across hubs so that the team's efforts are coherent and effective. Her role includes liaising with colleagues, Partners and key stakeholders to align the Observatory's work with what others are doing in the area of health systems and policies – in Member States, the WHO Regional Office for Europe and the European Commission.

Suszy has oversight of the country monitoring function with its HiT series, the Health System in Action Insights series, the State of Health in the EU profiles, the Health Systems and Policies Monitor (HSPM). She is also part of developments on health systems resilience, on cancer and health systems and on communities of practice.

Suszy also contributes to strengthening knowledge brokering, addressing the way policy briefs and dialogues can respond to decision-makers' needs and working on how the Observatory can use the tacit knowledge it has built up over time to share evidence more effectively – making it accessible, useful and policy relevant.
